PEASANT DEPUTIES GATHER AT AGRAM

Ten Wounded In Riots In That City, Berlin Hears;
Cabinet Sticks

Vienna, June 21.—A state of virtual martial law prevailed in Belgrade today as the result of the assassination of Deputy Paul Raditch and Deputy George Basaritch by Montenegrin Deputy Punic. Raditch is in the Skupstina (parliament), yesterday.

Advices from Belgrade said that troops were patrolling the streets. Violent anti-government riots were reported from Zagreb, the stronghold of the Croatian peasant party.

A Belgrade telegram said that the Democratic members of the cabinet had decided to resign. Their resignations probably will result in the downfall of the whole ministry.

Says Motives Patriotic

The assassin, Raditch, who is under arrest, declared he acted from "patriotic motives."

The shooting resulted from intense feeling that had been engendered by debate over the Yugoslav-Italian treaty (Nettuno treaty). This pact was before the chamber for ratification at the time of the assassinations.

In addition, the two men killed, Stefan Raditch, leader of the Croatian peasant party, was shot through the abdomen. Three others were less seriously wounded. They are Dr. Pergar, secretary of the Croatian peasant party; Deputy Grandja and Deputy Jelasic.

The shooting followed a riotous scene in the Yugoslavian chamber. Stefan Raditch had made a speech during which he shouted at the radical deputies: "You are behaving like a lot of swine."

RAINFALL HEAVY THRUOUT STATE

2.35 Inches Above Normal
As Summer Begins;
More Rain Coming

Columbus, June 21.—The first day of summer—and Ohio is the wettest it has been since 1901.

In the 24 hours preceding 7 p. m. Wednesday 1.65 inches of rain fell in Columbus, according to the records of the bureau. Cellars were flooded, auto and street car traffic was halted, lights were out and heavy damage was reported in many sections.

In 1901 records show, 6.31 inches of rain fell in 15 days. In 1892, only 4.96 inches of rain fell but it rained 22 consecutive days. According to reports from the Weather Bureau this morning no rivers were reported over the flood stages.

The Low pressure areas which have heaved over the western portion of the country are traveling eastward and are causing the many heavy rains which have fallen in Ohio, according to attaches of the bureau.

Ohio rain fall is now 2.35 inches above the seasonal normal for June

CREW MUTINIES ON OCEAN LINER; RADIO ASKS AID

600 Passengers On Board
Ship Near Colombo
Are In Danger

London, June 21.—After its wireless had been silent for several hours, leading to fears that the crew had mutinied and joined forces with the desperate stowaways found aboard, the Australian Commonwealth liner Jarvis Bay sent out an other radio call for immediate assistance, said a dispatch from Colombo this afternoon.

The Jarvis Bay, which is enroute from Brisbane to London with 600 passengers on board, had originally asked for aid from a warship, reporting that the crew were having trouble with "eight desperate stowaways."

That members of the crew may have refused to act against the stowaways was intimated by a Central News dispatch from Colombo saying that the stowaways were confined beneath battered down hatches while a volunteer guard kept watch night and day. When this dispatch was filed the liner was believed to be about 1,500 miles from Colombo.

Rescue Steamer Sails

An hour after the appeal from the ship was heard, a detachment of marines left Trincomalee, Ceylon, aboard the steamer Slavov, to proceed to its assistance. In view of the Jarvis Bay's later silence however, it is feared the mutineers have already succeeded in getting control of the ship and will attempt to evade the slower rescue ship.

The Jarvis Bay is registered as a vessel of the Commonwealth Line of Australia. Officials of the line here, however, stated that they had received no confirmation of the mutiny and that the Jarvis Bay had recently been sold to the White Star Line.

It was learned here today that some of the ship's crew objected to the change of ownership because if employed by a British company they would receive smaller wages than they had been getting.

The crew total 120.

Extend Tax Paying
Period to Saturday

Although the time for the payment of June tax expired at the close of business Wednesday afternoon, the collection of tax will continue without penalty until noon Saturday.

During the last week the office of County Treasurer Fred George has been crowded, and extra clerical help has been required to handle the crowd.

The total collection for the current period will not be officially known for several weeks. It is believed, however, that the collection will be on a par with that of June, 1927.

Gen. Nobile and Five Companions Located
By Aviator Maddelena Who Drops Food;
Will Hop Off Again Today In Search

The French seaplane which hopped off at Tromsø, Norway, on Monday, with Rene Guilbaud and Capt. Roald Amundsen, was still missing today.

Gen. Umberto Nobile and five companions have been located on an ice floe off the coast of North-east Land, but the fate of the other 10 members of the Nobile polar expedition is not known.

France will send two warships to Spitzbergen to search for Guilbaud and Amundsen.

Major Maddelena, Italian aviator, was to hop off at Nyallesund, Spitzbergen, today to try to land near the Nobile party, and to search for the missing 10 members of the Nobile expedition and for Amundsen and Guilbaud.

Warships Ordered North

Paris, June 21.—France will send the cruiser Strassbourg and the gunboat Quentin Roosevelt to Spitzbergen to search for the missing French seaplane bearing Rene Guilbaud and Capt. Roald Amundsen, the ministry of marine announced this afternoon.

The Strassbourg is enroute to Cherbourg for supplies. The Quentin Roosevelt, which is now at Oslo, will proceed to Bergen for coal, then leave for Spitzbergen.

Nothing definite has been heard of the French seaplane since it hopped off at Tromsø, Norway, on Monday.

Anxiety for Amundsen

London, June 21.—General Umberto Nobile and five members of the crew of the lost dirigible Italia having been located and provided with supplies, leaders of the relief expeditions today turned temporarily to two other pressing problems.

The whereabouts of 10 other members of the Italia's crew is still unknown. Capt. Roald Amundsen, the famous arctic explorer, who with Major Rene Bullbaud, set out from Tromsø, Norway, to search for Nobile in a French plane almost three

Brother and Sister
Meet First Time
Since Their Births

Caldwell, O. June 21.—Meeting for the first time in their lives a brother and sister, of 60 and 58 years, are becoming acquainted here today.

The brother, Samuel Ackley and his sister, Mrs. Alice Hubbard, of Los Angeles, Calif., met yesterday for the first time at the home of another brother who lives here.

When but a few months old the brother was taken into the home of an uncle. Two years later the sister was born, and although the home of the uncle was but a short distance away, Ackley never saw his sister.

When 19 months of age, Mrs. Hubbard was adopted by a family which then moved to Minnesota. The brother and sister began a correspondence when they were about ten years old. These messages continued and finally resulted in the first meeting.

Miss Kistler, who had been visiting her sister, Mrs. Clara Miller, S. Tod ext., went with the family on a picnic late yesterday.

After the supper, the group decided to go bathing. In the water a short time, the girl was stricken with cramps and drowned before she could be removed from the water.

The body was recovered and efforts made at resuscitation, but they were futile. Warren firemen were summoned and they used a pulmotor, but to no avail.

Tonight For Public
At City Hall

Formal reports, approving the city's new pumper fire truck, were received today from the Ohio Inspection bureau by Mayor Phil G. Hiddleson and Fire Chief Vincent L. Malloy.

All tests given the pumper Tuesday were passed favorably, the report states. In several tests the passing percentage rated by the pumper was higher than its capacity rated by the state.

The pumper on three different tests rated the following percentages, according to the report: 102.1, 105.8 and 104.2. Each was above the maximum, required by the state, which is 100 per cent.

In the test for its pumping capacity, conducted for two continuous hours, the requirement was 1,000 gallons per minute at 120 pounds pressure. The pumper pumped 1,042 gallons, with 120.8 pounds pressure.

Following the regular tests, the pump was run wide open for 15 minutes, showing a delivery of 1183 gallons per minute against 123 pounds pressure 183 gallons higher than the requirement and a pressure 12 pounds greater. No engine or pump trouble was experienced during the inspection of two hours and 35 minutes.

The tests were supervised by H. J. Manning, chief of fire prevention of the bureau.

A public demonstration of the pumper will be given at 7:30 tonight in front of City Hall. The public is urged to attend the demonstration.

Olympic Fund Here Far Short of Goal; New Appeal Issued

Donations to the Olympic fund of the city have been coming in slowly, only a small part of the $125 quota fixed for the city being subscribed up until noon today.

Interest here in the Olympics should be high, due to the fact that Salem has three Olympic game possibilities in Lowell Allen, Keith Roessler, and William Tobusch, all aspirants for berths on the team as pole vaulters.

Hope was expressed today by members of the local committee that the goal set for Salem would be surpassed within the next few days. Contributions for the fund should be left either at the Salem News-paper Agency or the Lease drug store.

Washington, June 21.—Dr. Hubert Work, Secretary of the Interior was selected chairman of the national Republican committee today.

Herbert Hoover, the G. O. P. presidential nominee, indicated his choice to 24 members of the committee meeting at the Willard hotel.

The committee ratified the selection and automatically work becomes generalissimo of the 1928 campaign for the White House.

Three vice chairmen were named as follows:

Ralph E. Williams of Oregon, Mrs. Alvin T. Hurt of Kentucky, D. E. Pomeroy of New Jersey.

Franklin Fort of New Jersey was named secretary and J. R. Nutt, of Cleveland, treasurer.

The selections were announced by James F. Burk of Pittsburgh, general counsel of the G. O. P. committee, who said that the committee would ratify the choice of Hoover. Burk was renegade general counsel.

Washington, June 21.—Republican leaders gathered today at the Willard hotel to map out the campaign to send a new type of candidate to the White House—the non-politician, Herbert Hoover.

Preliminary parleys were in progress before breakfast with the all-important subject of election of a chairman and the rest of the party organization, paramount.

Hoover, Dr. Hubert Work, Ogden L. Mills and other close friends and supporters of the Republican candidate, already have drafted their slate to be laid before the committee for ratification shortly after a noon time luncheon.

Those close to the candidate indicate that the chairman will be Dr. Work, whose political abilities already have been demonstrated at Kansas City and elsewhere.

MAYOR SPEAKER AT CARROLLTON

Takes Part In Discussion
At Welfare Conference
Wednesday Afternoon

Mayor Phil G. Hiddleson spoke on "Service of a Children's Home" at the district welfare conference at Carrollton Wednesday afternoon.

The conference was held under the auspices of the division of charities of the Ohio department of public welfare.

Hiddleson contributed a short talk to the general discussion, stating that the public should take steps to "wipe the tears from the child's eyes" in providing homes where the child will be trained mentally and physically under intelligent care and supervision.

The discussion was in charge of E. J. Henry, of Chagrin Falls.

Miss Bell Greve, superintendent of the division of charities, was invited by Mayor Hiddleson to visit Salem for a discussion of child problems in Salem and Columbiana county.

More than 450 persons were present at the conference, which started at 9 a. m. and continued through until 8 p. m.

The problems of taking care of the child, prevention of the delinquency, and dependency of children were discussed by speakers.

SMITH FORCES OPPOSE USE OF STEAM ROLLER

Give Every Favorite Son
Chance, Plan of Manager Geo. Van Namee

Houston, Texas, June 21.—While Governor Al Smith's forces feel they will be in supreme control at the Democratic national convention next week they passed the word along today that there will be no steamroller methods employed to force the nomination of the New York executive on the first ballot.

Every favorite son will be accorded liberal opportunity by the Smith managers to show his strength and every idea for a plank in the party's platform will be carefully discussed, according to the plan mapped out by George R. Van Namee, pre-convention campaign manager for Governor Smith.

"New York stands for tolerance and free speech, for good nature and good will," Van Namee declared. "We want to give every favorite son a chance to show his strength and we want everyone to leave the convention feeling fine."

Van Namee made it plain that Smith's managers are absolutely convinced he will be nominated.

Donahy Suggested

"I look for the nomination of Governor Smith on the second ballot or the third at the latest," said the white haired Democratic leader of New York, long a personal friend of Smith.

Questioned about the candidate for vice president, Van Namee said: "We are for any candidate for vice president the delegates want."

"Has any one suggested Governor Donahy for a candidate for vice president?" Van Namee was asked. "Yes and about 20 or 30 others," he replied, smiling.

Unless there are last minute changes, Franklin D. Roosevelt will place Governor Smith's name in nomination. Roosevelt, who is now at Warm Springs, Ga., is expected here Friday. Propped up with two crutches, Roosevelt nominated Smith at the historic convention of 1924 in Madison Square Garden.

PRELUDE OF FIGHT THAT MAY FOLLOW

Perturbation Reigns In Governor's Camp As Dry Take It Up

By GEORGE R. HOLMES

Houston, Texas, June 21.—The first rumble of the prohibition thunder that may rock the Democratic national convention reverberated about Houston today.

It offered a prelude, perhaps, of what is to come—and incidentally what may change this convention from a Smith ratification meeting into a noisy, controversial and bitter companionpiece to Madison Square Garden.

Gov. Al Smith's managers took prompt measures to quell it. But they were not entirely successful, nor did they succeed before the curtain was lifted a bit to afford an insight into the feeling of the New York delegation.

Norman E. Mack, veteran national committeeman from New York, and

Calls Al Smith Democrats Sole Hope of Victory

Houston, Texas, June 21.—"The Democrats sole hope of victory in November lies in the nomination of Gov. Al Smith."

Behind this bulwark the Smith forces at the Houston convention will stand and admit no compromise, it was indicated today by George R. Van Namee, the Smith pre-convention manager.

He announced that Smith headquarters will open with a blare of trumpets here Saturday "and every effort will be made by the delegation individually and collectively to promote the nomination of Gov. Smith."

one of Gov. Smith's closest personal friends, fired the opening gun in a statement in which he gave unstinted praise to Gov. Smith and included these observations:

Mack Cites A's Stand

"Gov. Smith has, and always will, stand for liberty and state's rights. He is opposed to prohibition. He is for temperance."

"The trouble with the American people is that they do not appreciate what prohibition has meant and does mean today. If they only realized what a hardship it is to the business of this country they would not stand for it."

Gov. Smith believes that if any state desires a certain alcoholic content of beverage, that state has the right to determine that content. If the state desires to be dry, then it is the right of that state to be dry."

Mack said "it is absolutely criminal" for American business to allow foreign countries to take so much money out of this country for liquor. And he referred to "people in the states of Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and New York spending the greater portion of their time and money imbibing the liquors so easily obtained in Canada."

Drys Make Most Of It

CAL MAROONED BY RAIN AGAIN

Superior, Wis. June 21.—For the seventh consecutive day, loud weather marooned President Coolidge at his Burleigh river camp today.

Coolidge had planned to motor in to Superior this morning to visit the temporary executive offices, but the intermittent rain which has fallen ever since the presidential party arrived here grew worse last night and made the 33-mile stretch of road between Cedar Island Lodge and town virtually impassable.

Secretary Sanders, after ascertaining conditions, phoned out to the lodge this morning and urged the president not to attempt the trip. The executive remained around the lodge idle this morning.

A MATTER OF GEOGRAPHY

The case of the man in a neighboring state who was sentenced to prison for life upon his conviction of having in his possession a pint of whiskey has been the subject of much comment. As it is ordinarily put, he was committed for life without hope of parole or pardon because of his possession of a pint of liquor. Of course, he wasn't given the sentence for any such reason. It was pronounced upon him by reason of his conviction for the fourth time of a felony, the possession of the liquor being a felony under the law. In other words, his life sentence was due to the fact that he was an old offender against the law. Whether the possession of a pint of liquor should constitute a felony is not the question, although it may be debatable; it is the law.

A somewhat similar case is reported from Oakland, out in California, which state has a law patterned after the New York Baumes law. Mrs. Evelyn Rosencrantz, an aviatrix who had planned a trans-Atlantic flight, faces a life sentence in San Quentin prison as a result of her conviction on a charge of passing a worthless check for $100, she having been convicted three times previously of passing bogus $100 checks.

"Here," said the trial judge, Fred V. Wood, in commenting on the woman's case, "is a woman convicted four times of cashing bad checks for a total of $400. She must go to the penitentiary for life without the right of pardon. We have just convicted in this court a man, Arthur Antoine, of brutally murdering his wife and dismembering her body in order that he might marry a younger woman. He also is sentenced to life imprisonment, but will be eligible for parole after 10 years. This is contrary to justice, admitting this woman is guilty of all charges against her."

Judge Wood certainly makes a strong case against the justice of such a law; against the justice of administering more severe punishment for the cashing of four $100 worthless checks than is ordered administered for the extraordinarily brutal murder he cites. But he fails to offer the solution; he fails to tell whether the fourth offense feature of the law should be repealed, or life sentence without possibility of parole or pardon be pronounced for murder.

And there is another phase of the matter. This California woman is sentenced to life imprisonment for cashing four bogus $100 checks. Here in Ohio the same thing has been done, the amounts being different, time and time again. We have known of cases of the kind right here in Columbiana county in which the one guilty of cashing worthless checks escaped arrest by making good the amounts received on them, the felonies being compounded by those holding the checks. In one state, a life sentence. In another, freedom. No hope of parole or pardon in one state. In the other, a short prison sentence the most severe punishment probable, if any at all.

It's not the legal view, of course, but to a layman it would seem that the measure of punishment for crime in the same land should not be regulated by geographical lines.

What Others Say

HERBERT CLARK HOOVER

It is a circumstance which invites new confidence in democratic government when a great party turns to a man like Herbert C. Hoover and makes him its nominee for president. Whether he is elected or defeated in November, Hoover brings character and promise to the Republican ticket. He is a new kind of candidate in a day forfeited with old forms and old habits in politics.

The major parties have commonly turned to one of two sources for their presidential nominees. They have named either a man who has shown ability as a vote-getter and a capacity for executive management; or have picked a military hero, whose lack of experience is hidden by the glamour of his name.

Secretary Hoover has never run for an elective office. He probably never donned a military uniform. As a vote-winner he is utterly an unknown. Of the three states primaries he entered in competition with favorite sons, he lost two. So far as his ability to win popular support at the polls is concerned, the Republican party accepts Hoover on faith.

Underlying this sublime faith in a man's ability to deliver, however, is a long record of astonishing achievement. Hoover typifies efficiency. He thinks in terms of getting things done. To him government is an engineering problem, and like a master chess player he maneuvers his forces to the desired end.

As food commissioner in the Great War, as head of America's relief forces in Europe after the armistice as director of salvage in the stricken Mississippi river region, and on a score of like missions stretching through a busy life, Herbert Hoover has borne unusual responsibilities with unusual success. "Let Hoover do it" has become both a slogan and a compliment in administrative circles at Washington.

When Harding invited Mr. Hoover to his cabinet the selection was everywhere hailed with enthusiasm. His retention by Mr. Coolidge was taken for granted. Rumors of cabinet changes never involved the head of the commerce department; his tenure was accepted as indefinite. He has raised a cabinet office to new usefulness.

The election of Hoover would bring to the presidency one whose horizon of sympathy and understanding is worldwide. There is nothing provincial about him; he comprehends Europe, as well as America, and understands the many relations that bind them together. The Old world, which is commonly much puzzled at politics and political methods in this country, will have no difficulty understanding why a great party chooses Hoover for its leader.

It is much to Mr. Hoover's credit, though opponents have pointed to it sneeringly, that his party affiliations have been questioned. It indicates that Hoover is first a highly-competent American, and only secondarily a partisan. Now that he has been chosen to carry out the policies of Calvin Coolidge, the average voter of independent leanings will believe him as incapable of narrow partisanship in the performance as he has shown himself incapable of littleness in the manifold activities of a busy life.—Cleveland Plain Dealer, Independent Democratic.

ONLY ONE MUSSOLINI

Another of II Duce's precautionary measures has been the warning to Italian mothers that their sons are not to be named "Mussolini." Even "Benito" is presumably banned as a monicker for sons of patriotic Italian families.

There is only one Mussolini, says he, and there can be only one. In the United States we have no such obstacle to naming hope and joyous pride. The given names of our heroes and statesmen are public property. If the name of a great man is to be any inspiration to some lad of obscure family, there is no law, written or unwritten against letting him have it. So we trace the history of our country and its enthusiasms in the names of its rank and file. Many a youngster born toward the close of the Civil War was christened "George B. McClelland" or "John A. Seward." In the nineties there was a crop of "Dewey's." There have been "Theodore's" and "Warren's," "Woodrow's" and "Wilson's" to mark the flight of time and the popular fancy.

After all, and Shakespeare to the contrary notwithstanding, if there is anything in a name, there should be no harm in passing it on to coming generations. Whatever his own opinion of himself, Mussolini could have no truer, sweeter tribute than that the mothers of the nation should wish to name their sons with his name, in his honor.—Detroit Free Press.

MANY MEN HAVE DIED IN SPASM OF RAGE

By Royal S. Copeland, M. D., United States Senator From New York, Former Commissioner of Health, New York City

Health and normal function depend on proper circulation of the blood through the body and its every part. Many disabilities can be traced to disturbances in the blood supply. Too much blood or too little blood may be a cause for trouble.

If there is too much blood, we have congestion. If too little blood, there is anemia. The former condition, if it affects the head, produces a symptom sometimes spoken of as "a rush of blood to the head."

There are two kinds of congestion. The first is due to an increase in the red blood, the arterial blood. The second is caused by some obstruction to the escape of the venous blood. The former condition is called active congestion, the second passive congestion.

Congestion of the brain is a painful thing. It makes itself known by headache and dizziness. In more severe attacks there may be convulsions and disturbance of the sight or hearing.

There are sometimes sparks and flashes of light before the eyes. The pupils are contracted and there may be redness and burning of the eyes.

St. Petersburg—One of the most sweeping repressive measures ever attempted by the czar was promulgated today when the minister of public instruction decreed that all women students be expelled from the Russian universities, and that none should be admitted henceforth. You know how the ears roar and buzz if you take a large dose of quinine. There is a similar trouble in congestion of the brain.

In this ailment there are redness of the face, restlessness and sleeplessness usually. If the victim falls asleep there are frightful dreams, night terrors in children, and grinding and grating of the teeth.

All the symptoms are made worse by lying down because the recumbent position increases the congestion of the brain. Sitting up gives some relief.

There may be congestion of the brain due to temporary or passing causes. For instance, violent anger may cause a rush of blood to the head. You have seen a quick-tempered person get so red in the face as to give the countenance a purple color. Even the whites of the eyes become reddened. The back of the neck and the ears show the color.

It is dangerous to give way to anger. Young people may not suffer materially but if they permit this bad habit to grow upon them it will be a menace to health and life in advanced age. Many a man has died from brain hemorrhage due to over-congestion of the brain in a fit of anger. I have seen several cases of serious bleeding from a ruptured vessel in the retina of the eye caused by the congestion due to anger.

The tiny blood vessels of the brain have thin and very delicate walls. Nature has provided a reserve where ever she builds. This means so far as the brain is concerned that its blood vessels will withstand a reasonable degree of congestion, but under exceptional circumstances they will give way.

There are certain heart disturbances which result in the pumping of an excessive amount of blood through the body and the brain suffer from congestion along with the rest of the system. Anything which over-stimulates the heart like excessive smoking, alcoholism, taking an undue amount of strong coffee or the use of drugs may cause serious congestion of the head.

Baby Born In River But Dies Soon After

Budapest, June 21.—A baby was born in the Danube near this city recently when its mother fell into the river by accident. She was picking up firewood along the banks and fell headfirst. Fishermen rushed to her rescue which was very difficult because of the swift current in this spot. When they finally reached her she was more dead than alive but had the newborn baby in her arms.

The child lived only for a few minutes and the mother was taken to the hospital in a critical condition.

GOLD COAST OF CHICAGO TO BE SLUM IN FUTURE

That's What Architects Are Telling Society On North Shore

Chicago, June 21.—The exclusive Gold Coast society folks are worried again.

Architects are telling them, now that their highly fashionable residence district, around Lincoln park and north along the north shore of Lake Michigan, is going to be a "slum" in a few years.

The Gold Coast folks know what slums look like, and they aren't breathing free for a while. They can see visions of undesirable encroachment on their backyards they have a foreign district, hemming them in.

For years, through the history of Chicago, the Gold Coast has been famed as a show place, and the residence of the city's elite. Tall apartment towers with luxurious fittings and tremendous rentals have risen in serried ranks, and the residents are proud of them.

But it is from these very apartment buildings that the danger is coming, according to architects.

Back To Suburbs

Young couples, they say, will be moving into these towers, and filling them up as soon as they are built. In a few years, the young couples will be well established and will be moving with their children to the suburbs. Vacant apartments, creating a problem for the building owners, will force rentals downward in a sharp drop and the once vaunted structures will become inhabited by less and less desirable tenants.

This has been the case, the architects point out, in other parts of the city where apartment districts have reared.

The once brave structures have become the roost of transients, persons of dubious character, and the foreign population, with its teeming families.

Only a few weeks ago the millionaire population of the suburbs of Wilmette, Evanston and other north shore communities became alarmed at the encroachment of apartment houses and congestion of residents.

Now the Gold Coast finds itself in the position of having admitted already a vast number of apartment houses.

Allan B. Pond, architect, told members of the Chicago Regional Planning association:

"Crowding in so many families per acre, as the apartment building allows, could not have any other than a disastrous effect on a community."

"Young couples move into the apartments. When they have children they move into the suburbs and build homes. Rentals are lowered in the apartments. Eventually those in destitute circumstances inhabit them."

Warning Given

Axel Lonnquist, of Wilmette, renewed his warnings to the association that the suburbs will face the same problem, if apartments are allowed there.

A large percentage of the population now lives in apartment buildings, according to real estate men. Rentals are placed high enough while the buildings are new to allow sharp reductions after the first two years. Because owners of ground find it difficult to be public minded and refuse large offers from apartment builders, the association is having trouble in passing zoning restrictions.

The Gold Coast has awakened to the situation—with a brown taste in its mouth. The vaunted apartment palaces may be the nemesis of the Coast, and residents and owners are attempting to find a way to combat the menace—with little chance of success, according to the architects.

Greco-Turkish Pact Delayed by Demand For Heavy Payments

Constantinople, June 21.—Turkey's demand for the initial payment by Greece of two and a half million dollars as compensation for Turkish owned property in Greece territory is holding up the conclusion of the Greco-Turkish pact of friendship, arbitration and non-aggression.

Special commissions have been appointed to value the Greek Turkish owned property in Greece as a result of recent expropriation of property in Turkey, and the population and arrange for reciprocal compensation.

Even before these commissions have begun their work the Turks claim that the amount of Turkish owned property in Greece is far superior to the amount of Greek owned property in Turkey. The Turks have therefore demanded an initial guarantee payment of $2,500,000, which Greece refuses to pay.

Greece proposed the submission of the question to neutral arbitration but Turkey refused. The Italian Ambassador in Ankara is trying to mediate between Turkey and Greece. Italy is particularly interested because of the Italian government's insistence that the Italian-Turkish and Greco-Turkish pacts of friendship, arbitration and non-aggression be signed simultaneously.

Stuebenville, O.—Richard Evans, Jefferson county's oldest citizen, celebrated his birthday recently by receiving friends at his home in Winterville, a suburb. Evans, a Civil war veteran and a poet-farmer, attributes his long life to "single-mindedness, lack of worry and to the fact that I never use tobacco."

Explorers Start For Kalahari; Seeking Race's Birthplace

Chicago, June 21.—"The Birthplace of the Human Race" is the subject of the search of a party of Chicago explorers who will use the modern tools of science and who recently set out from the city for the Kalahari desert, of southeastern Africa.

Members of the party included Dr. Will J. Cameron, Chicago sportsman and big game hunter, who is financing the trip; Dr. C. Ernest Cradie, who has lived in South Africa for several years; Professor R. L. Mennen, Texas University geologist; Fred A. Parrish, and Henry Hoder, expert photographers and hunters of big game.

Although in search of the primitive the explorers will employ ultra-modern equipment in their unique expeditions. Unlike other desert expeditions, the Cameron expedition will travel in a large motor truck equipped with a caterpillar device similar to that of tanks which will facilitate plowing through sand.

To Penetrate Desert

The truck will carry in addition to ordinary supplies, an electric refrigerator to preserve movie films and a radio broadcasting set to keep in touch with Cape Town, which will be used as the base of operations.

The Kalahari desert, which the expedition will endeavor to penetrate is inhabited by much feared tribes of pygmy bushmen, living in the lowest known scale of civilization.

COURT NEWS

Grants Wife Divorce

On the grounds of gross neglect of duty, a decree of divorce has been granted Sylvia Phillips against her husband Alonzo W. Phillips, chief of the fire department at Wellsville. The case was not contested. On March 16 last the court made an order that the defendant pay his wife $50 alimony monthly. The original petition which was filed March 8 sought alimony only, but upon final hearing a divorce was granted the plaintiff. The couple were married only a brief period before the alimony petition was filed.

Settle Two Cases

Two cases wherein a total of $25,000 damages were sought have been settled without a jury trial in common pleas No. 1 for $500 each. In the petition filed by Camille McBurney against Edward Klein $10,000 damage was sought and in the petition of Scovil McBurney against the same defendant $15,000 was sought.

A jury trial was waived in both cases, and there was a brief hearing before the court, following which a judgment for $500 was handed down in each case.

Will File Answer

W. S. Marshall, defendant in an action filed against him by Charles W. Hull, has been granted leave by Judge W. F. Lones to file his answer on or before July 21 next. In this case the plaintiff seeks judgment for $100 from the defendant and Lorraine B. Marshall, a party defendant.

Would Be Citizen

Albert E. Wright, 36, residing at 487 East High st. Salem, and a native of Woodstock, Canada, has filed his declaration of intent with Clerk of Courts Frank Ballantine to become a citizen of the United States. He entered at Port Huron April 30, 1916.

Sale Is Confirmed

In the partition action filed by Thelma Hyder against Zona Miller and others, the court has confirmed a sale, ordered a deed and has entered an order of distribution. Attorney fees have also been allowed in this case.

Real Estate Transfers

Real estate transfers have been filed for record as follows: William H. Marshall and wife to Joseph M. Blazer, trustee, lot 3728-9-30 Pleasant Heights, East Liverpool, $5.

Weather Men Plan To Make Hops Safer For Atlantic Fliers

Paris, June 21.—Weathermen of eight nations in conference here took steps to protect trans-Atlantic fliers from the fatal whims of the elements.

On the proposition of Dr. Chas. Frederick Marvin, chief of the United States weather bureau, they agreed to co-operate in centralizing reports and forecast so that aviators would have the most complete knowledge of meteorological conditions along the entire route before hopping off.

General Delcambre, chief of the French weather bureau spoke in support of Dr. Martin. "Most aviators possess but a rudimentary knowledge of meteorology and too often they take it upon themselves to investigate conditions, at the risk of compromising the functioning of legitimate weather service," he said.

Other countries represented were Germany, England, Denmark, Norway, Sweden and Portugal.

"Skulls which are believed to be nearly a million years old have been found near the region which we will explore," Dr. Cadie said before making his departure.

"We expect to establish a connection between the prehistoric owners of these skulls and the present pygmy tribes living in the Kalahari desert."

"Toward that end we are going to make a careful study of the culture and the physical characteristics of the pygmies during this hunting trip. And if we succeed, the region may prove to be the much sought cradle of man."

"The pygmies' arms, we know, are eight inches longer proportionately than those of a normal white man. This is significant when we reflect that the gorilla, one of man's immediate ancestors, walks with hands dragging."

Primitive People

As for their mode of living, they are about the most primitive people in the world. They hunt with the bow and arrow, live in crude shelters made of branches, wear practically no clothing and wander from place to place hunting food as they go.

In addition to studying the primitive peoples of southwestern Africa, members of the expedition are planning to do some big game hunting both with movie cameras and shot-guns.

The expedition expects to bring back curios, knick-knacks, and animal skins for exhibition at the Field museum, Dr. Cadie said.

Altogether the trip will take more than two years.

here to do battle with the Smith forces. It created a first-class sensation among the arriving delegates.

Frankie friends of the governor started looking immediately for George R. Van Namee, the Smith pre-convention manager, who may be the next chairman of the national committee. It was long past midnight when they found him. The lateness of the hour and the then impossibility of recalling the statement distressed Van Namee no little. "Did you say that, Norman?" asked Van Namee.

The perturbation of Smith managers seemed eminently justified today when the radical dyes, already gathered here for the impending battle, immediately took up the Mack statement and made the most of it.

"Surely," said Mrs. Jessie W. Nicholson, of Maryland, director of the national women's Democratic law enforcement league, "surely the Democrats will not be so foolish as to nominate Al Smith or any other wet candidate for the presidency."

"Seventy-five thousand women banded into this enforcement league and representing 20 million women voters do not want their children ever to see the inside of a saloon. This is just what would happen should Tammany get control of the treasury and the prohibition bureau."

"There are many male dyes present and coming and representing more than a score of national organizations. They are militant, aggressive, and determined at all costs to prevent the inclusion in the platform of any plank which by the widest stretch of imagination could be construed as liberal on the prohibition issue. They threaten dire results in November and for future of the party if Smith is nominated and there is anything but the most unequivocal support of Volsteadism in the platform."

It is the one situation that is causing the Smith leaders real concern. Of the nomination of Gov. Smith they are confident. They expect it certainly within three balzons.

If Gov. Smith has authorized anyone to speak for him in the kind of prohibition plank he wants in the platform, or if he has entrusted anyone with a plank drawn by himself the fact has been kept carefully hidden thus far.

The impression prevails that the governor favors a simple declaration in favor of the law enforcement, without naming any names, but it goes no further than an impression. That, however, will not satisfy the dyes. They want an out-and-out dry plank, so written as to make Gov. Smith write in trying to stand upon it. They assert that the Republicans pledged themselves, at Kansas City to enforce the 18th amendment; by name, and they assert the Democrats can do no less.

AVOID STEPPING ON SOCIAL TOES

Coolidges Accepting No Invitations While At Their Summer Home

Superior, Wis., June 21.—Extraordinary precautions are being taken to see that no toes are trod on socially as a result of President Coolidge's summer vacation at Cedar Island lodge on the Brule river.

Word has been passed out from the temporary executive offices that social invitations to Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge will be frowned upon.

The Superiores have been advised informally that the president and his wife cannot accept one bid without being liable to innumerable invitations, and that, therefore, none will be accepted.

The secretarial staff also has been poured cold water on the many suggestions that the executive make side trips throughout this section of Wisconsin and nearby Minnesota, visiting projects of various sorts and making speeches.

Regular Air Service New York To West To Open This Year

Cleveland, June 21.—Regular airplane passenger service between New York and Chicago requiring only seven hours as against 20 hours made by the fastest railroad train is to be inaugurated within six to eight months by the National Air Transport Co., of Chicago. Calcel Paul Henderson, general manager of the Transport Co., announced recently.

The transportation planned between Cleveland and Chicago, Toledo, Detroit and New York will start, according to Henderson, with a fleet of seven de luxe, tri-motored planes to cost approximately $500,000. Each plane carrying from 12 to 14 passengers is to have a cabin steward aboard which will serve buffet lunches enroute.

The National Air Transport Co. has increased its capital $1,600,000 to finance this new passenger service and purchase $500,000 stock of the Transcontinental Air Transport Co., the air-rail hook-up with Pennsylvania railroad, it was said.

and physical health and a favorable environment."

"These purposes," the doctor said, "include the furtherance of scientific research in the field of eugenics and in regulation of the increase of population. They also include the education of the people to the importance of the betterment of stock and to the economic and social evils which result from too great an increase in population."

Dr. T. W. Todd, professor of anatomy at Western Reserve university; Rev. J. B. Hayden, pastor of the Fairmount Presbyterian church; Mrs. R. B. Perkins, Dr. Brush's daughter; Mrs. William Weir, wife of a specialist in gynecology at Lakeside hospital here, and Mrs. C. F. Brush, Jr., widow of Brush's son, constitute the board of managers of the fund.

Schrems Attacks Fund

Cleveland, June 21.—Bishop Joseph Schrems of the Cleveland Catholic diocese today attacked the newly created Brush foundation for bettering the human race and regulating population as announced here by Dr. Charles F. Brush.

"According to this foundation," Bishop Schrems declared, "I have no right to be born for I am the youngest of 15 children."

"The purpose of the foundation, according to its promoter, is the betterment of the human stock. In other times we referred to humans as the human race, but according to this foundation we are being classed with animals on the farm."

"When I saw another phase of the foundation's work—regulation of increase in population to the end that children shall be begotten only under such conditions as make possible a heritage of mental and physical health and favorable environment—the thought came that the church for many centuries has been laboring for betterment of the human race. Her teaching has resulted in the production of men and women who have been the outstanding minds of the world."

Bishop Schrems concluded by saying that fears of the foundation "that the world may be over-populated" were groundless when "millions and millions of acres of land await the hand of man to spring into productivity."

deputies in the Yugoslavian parliament to leave Belgrade and assemble at Agram, a Vienna dispatch said.

Deputy Paul Raditch, nephew of Stefan Raditch, and Deputy George Bazarich, who were shot to death in Parliament buildings at Belgrade, by Montenegrin Deputy Puzos Ratchich, will be buried at Agram on Friday. The state offered to defray all funeral expenses and to indemnify the families of the slain men, but the peasant party rejected the offer.

Agram is Revolt Center

Leaders of the peasant party warned the government against participation in the funeral, saying they could not guarantee the safety of representatives of the government.

The attention of the whole Yugoslav kingdom is centering upon Agram where the Peasant party leaders are gathering.

The Belgrade government has rejected the demand of the opposition that the cabinet resign forthwith.

King Alexander is giving his personal attention to the serious political situation and conferred until late last night with leaders of the government.

Open Headquarters Saturday

Headquarters commensurate with the prominence of Governor Smith as a candidate will be thrown open Saturday as a part of the intensive drive which the New York people will conduct for Smith's nomination on an early ballot.

Four large rooms on the mezzanine floor of the Rice hotel have been retained, and a young army of workmen were engaged today in putting final touches on the decorations.

Familiar figures in Governor Smith's many state campaigns will be on duty at these headquarters. Van Namee said, among them being George C. Norton, New York lawyer, and Howard Cullinan, New York tobacco merchant, as immediate assistants to Van Namee.

It was indicated that the Republican chiefs have come to no decision as to Hoover's resignation, although observers said that probably he will retire sometime in July. Whether the resignation will come before Hoover leaves Washington early next Monday for his home in Palo Alto, California, has not been disclosed.

Hoover plans definitely to remain in Washington through the Democratic convention. His radio receiver in the commerce department has been overhauled so that no word may be missed from the Houston gathering.

One of the first affairs in Hoover's honor will be a banquet tendered by officials and employees of the commerce department. About 500 persons are expected to attend. It will be purely an entertainment function, politics barred. The date has not been set.

New Expedition Ready

A new rescue expedition of three men, a Swedish trapper, an Alpinist and a Laplander is preparing to leave for King's Bay to search for Noble's lost comrades soon, according to a Central News Dispatch from Stockholm, Sweden.

Major Magdalena was aided by radio messages from Noble in locating the dirigible's commander. He circled over the marooned men's encampment several times and dropped food and supplies from his plane by using small parachutes.

Markets

OPENING IRREGULAR

New York, June 21.—The market was irregular at the opening today, with prices of the active shares generally lower. Radio lost 2 points at 173½; U. S. Steel was down ¼ at 135¼; General Motors down ¼ at 174¼; Wright Aero down ¼ at 138¼; American Linseed down ¼ at 117¼; American Can up ¼ at 83¼; Collins & Aikman up ¼ at 66¼.

The market was slightly unsettled in the first period today, and Wednesday's closing rally failed to carry forward in the market leaders. Continuation of the 6½ per cent call loan renewal rate was a handicap, and it was generally felt that thousands of small traders had finally been halted in the wild speculative plunge by warnings of the reserve board. Banks saw little indication of an easing up in the money situation until the second week in July, and in the meantime a 7 per cent call rate would not be surprising.

Reactions of 2 to 4 points from yesterday's close were recorded in Radio, General Motors, the Aero stocks and other market favorites in the first half hour. The market was for the most part a professional traders affair, with comparatively little participation from the outside. On the eve of a further tightening of the money market, and in view of the apathy of the general public, many traders have withdrawn from the market temporarily to await developments.

Greenford Grange Has Costume Party

There was a large attendance at the costume social held Wednesday evening at Greenford grange. The evening was spent playing games and music by the Calvin orchestra entertained. The guests were divided into four groups and several contests added interest to the party. After the grand march prizes were offered for the costumes. They were: Oldest costume, Mrs. C. F. Bower who wore a bonnet which was 125 years old; most comical, Mrs. Nancy Walters; most attractive, Martha Davis, who wore her mother's wedding dress; historical costume, Margaret Calvin for the Civil war period; best national costume, Ruth Coburn dressed as a gypsy.

Women Independent In German Politics

Berlin, June 21.—In politics, women differ even more than men. This is shown by the figures of the last German election at which, in some places, men and women voted separately. These figures showed that the women voters were the main support of the numerous little "splinter" parties of which there were more than a score in the last election, seventeen of which did not succeed in electing even one candidate. Practically all of these dwarf parties pulled considerably more women than men votes. The men preferred to cast their votes where they would count.

RADIO REPLACES STUMP SPEAKING

Campaign This Year Will Be Void of Booming Oratory of Past

Washington, June 21.—The days of the old spell-binder politician with roaring voice and mighty oratory that shook the windows and the timbers of many a town hall are doomed.

In the 1928 Republican campaign the mild words of Herbert Hoover and his matter-of-fact non-oratorical delivery will be nearly as effective as the stump speakers of old. Those mighty voices have turned more than one vote to their advantage.

Radio this year will be the medium which will bring the political messages of the Republicans and the Democrats to the voters. Today plans were being laid by both national committees for radio hookups that will reach three quarters of the people of the United States. More than 1,600,000 farm firesides in the strongholds of the McNary-Haugenites will resound with political cheer and grief as the campaign warms to the boiling point.

Herbert Hoover will make wide use of the radio. Al Smith, if he becomes the Democratic nominee, likewise will do much speaking before the microphone.

TERRIFIC BLAST FELT 25 MILES

Allentown, Pa., In Terror As Dynamite Drying Houses Explode

Allentown, Pa., June 21.—A brilliant flare in the sky accompanied an ear-splitting blast when seven of the ten dynamite drying houses of the Trojan Powder company about 10 miles northwest of this city exploded early today.

Four night watchmen, the only employees reported on the reservation, have been accounted for. One of them, however, Alfred Frittinger, was hurled several feet being dazed and shocked but otherwise uninjured.

The blast was felt for 25 miles away and residents of Riverton and Palmyra, N. J. were awakened by the detonation. The plant is located between Guth and Greenwald on the lines of the Reading railroad.

The entire city was aroused and for almost an hour terror reigned until the cause of the terrific explosion could be learned.

GANGSTERS SLUG JURY MESSENGER

Investigation Evidence Saved By Attorney; Guards Ordered

Chicago, June 21.—Extra guards were provided today for prosecutors, witnesses and members of the special grand jury investigating crime and election frauds, following an attack last night on Attorney Samuel Epstein, connected with the prosecution.

Epstein was set upon and slugged by gangsters in the very shadow of the criminal court building where the special grand jury is in session.

The sluggers attempted to seize important memoranda dealing, it is said, with evidence in connection with the pre-election murder of "Diamond Joe" Esposito, a Deneen political worker. The attorney's papers also included a list of men who are to be indicted, it was said.

Frank J. Loesch, in charge of the jury as special prosecutor and president of the Chicago crime commission, was enraged over the attack on his aide.

The thugs, two in number, apparently followed Epstein from the courtroom. He was pounced upon a half block from the criminal court building. Although severely beaten, he fought his attackers until help arrived and thus saved the papers. Ten men have already been named in indictments and six of them are under arrest, all charged with crimes committed during the recent bloody election campaign.

RAINS DAMAGE MINE DISTRICT

Gardens of Unemployed Are Destroyed; Towns' Streets Flooded

Nelsonville, O.—June 21.—Wrecked gardens, drowned livestock and flooded highways and streets were the results of the heavy rain which struck here late yesterday.

No one was injured, although damage to property, particularly to the homes of miners, is reported heavy. The gardens of striking miners, in many instances their only source of food, were ruined.

The business district of Murray City was reported under from one-half to four feet of water. State Highway 13 to Glouster was under water in many places.

The ground floors of stores in Buchtel were under two feet of water. Streets in Chauncey were also flooded, according to reports.

Wilmington, O., June 21.—Property losses from the heavy rain and wind storm which struck Clinton county Tuesday are estimated at $50,000 here today.

Reports from small villages delayed by broken telephone and telegraph wires show heavy damages in the villages of New Antioch, New Vienna, Lumberton and Mt. Pleasant.

Farm Field Day At Canfield Saturday

Farmers and all persons interested in agriculture are invited to attend the first annual Mahoning County Farm Field day to be held at the Canfield farm Monday afternoon, June 25, according to an announcement today from L. W. Sherman, superintendent.

The field day is being held under the auspices of the Farm Bureau and the combined county granges. It is taking the place of the annual trip to Wooster.

Speakers will include Director C. G. Williams of the Ohio experiment station at Wooster, M. A. Bachtell, Wooster, and Earl Jones, station specialist at Columbus.

A variety of fertility work will be demonstrated in connection with the growing of wheat, corn, oats. A new method of eradicating quack grass will also be shown.

"This will be our first big open house meeting," Mr. Sherman said, "and we hope the public will accept our invitation."

The session will begin at 1 o'clock. Those who wish to bring their lunch will be provided with tables.

Little Doorn "Court" Devoted to Wilhelm

Cologne, June 21.—"Everyone is devoted to his majesty, the ex-Kaiser Wilhelm," recently reported Count Plenek von Fickenstein, former aide-de-camp, in a conference on the life and doings of the little "court" at Doorn.

"The gardens are filled with ducks and it is really touching to see them await the Kaiser and hear him salute him at dawn."

At Doorn, it is evidently the ducks which crow instead of Chancellor.

AMELIA MAY BE FILM STAR NEXT

Aviatrix Considers Many Offers To Appear In Motion Pictures

London, June 21.—Opportunities to star in moving picture thrillers were among the offers under consideration this afternoon by Miss Amelia Earhart, America's record breaking aviatrix.

Miss Earhart had planned to attend the Ascot race meet today to mingle with the social elite of England, but cancelled the trip because of fatigue and the pressure of "business matters."

She said she expected to be engaged most of the afternoon with various representatives discussing the length of her stay in England and the offers of cinema, writing and lecture contracts that have poured in upon her since her arrival Tuesday night.

The Boston girl spent the night at the home of Mrs. Frederick E. Guest, wealthy patroness of the Friendship's flight. She slept late, tired out by the excitement and continuous evasions of Wednesday.

Miss Earhart refused to indicate whether she might appear in a film production, but it is believed she will reject the offers.

SCOUTS WAY TO GET PETROLEUM FROM SOFT COAL

German and American Oil
Station Mystifies
Carnegie Prexy

Pittsburgh, June 21.—The recent announcement that the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey and the German dye trust known as the I. G. Farben Industrie, were about to establish an experimental station jointly in this country for the purpose of developing the process of manufacturing synthetic petroleum from coal, was characterized as "somewhat mystifying" by Dr. Thomas S. Baker, president of the Carnegie Institute of Technology in an interview here today.

Dr. Baker, who organized the first international conference on bituminous coal, which was held at the institute in 1920, recently returned from Europe where he has been engaged in preparations for the second international coal congress to be held at Carnegie Tech next November.

The announcement of the joint experimental station was mystifying, Dr. Baker stated, insofar as there is confidence that the supply of natural petroleum is sufficient for many years. This, he said, is general and certain.

Look Far Ahead
Presumably, however, Dr. Baker said, the Standard Oil company is looking far into the future and is preparing itself for any eventuality. "There is a possibility," he added, "that its plans for research and its engagement with the German company have to do with studies other than the liquefaction of coal."

"However," Dr. Baker went on, "it would seem that the Standard Company of New Jersey does not propose to be caught napping, and the establishment of a great research plant may be taken to indicate that the Standard Oil interests have reached the conclusion that the oil industry needs the help of scientific men."

Coal To Oil
"The American public first became aware that it was possible to turn coal into petroleum at the time of the first Carnegie coal congress in 1920 when Dr. Friedrich Bergius, the German scientist, read his paper on the hydrogenation of coal," Dr. Baker stated.

"The war stimulated very greatly the efforts to find a substitute for natural petroleum."

It was not until after the war, however, that the production of synthetic petroleum actually got under way to any extent. The German dye trust took over the Bergius patents, modified them some and at the present time the production of synthetic petroleum is being carried out on a large scale.

The manufacture of the new product and the further development of the process is now in the hands of Dr. Carl Krauch, a director of the dye trust, according to Dr. Baker. Dr. Krauch will come to the United States next fall and will be one of the speakers at the second international conference on bituminous coal next November.

Famous Violinist Finds English Are Too Proper, Formal

London, June 21.—"English people are too proper, a little too stiff and cold and formal." That is how Jascha Heifetz, the violinist sums up Britons.

"London," he says, "has too much of the tradition. But the great fault that I have to find with London is that she has no real opera house and so few halls for music."

"Is it simply that the people are not musical or is it that they are simply lacking in interest. It is certainly not because they are lacking the money."

"The English people, and for that matter London too, have so many splendid qualities that they can well afford to be criticized."

Aberdeen Library Has Way to Stop Stealing Pictures

Aberdeen, June 21.—The people of Aberdeen are so fond of art for art's sake that the authorities of a public library here have had to obliterate nude pictures from periodicals to prevent them being torn out and taken home.

And the people of Aberdeen have consequently protested. They complain that certain nude pictures by the late Charles Sims have been so stamped over with the official library stamp that none can study the pictures—for art's sake.

"It is merely a precautionary measure," an official explained. "The kind of illustrations stamped are just the variety that is torn out when the attendants backs are turned."

Heart-leaf tobacco makes the difference

Three words describe OLD GOLD'S superiority . . . heart-leaf tobacco. Not heavy, coarse top-leaves of the tobacco plant that irritate the throat. Not withered ground-leaves

REMUS SETTLES DOWN IN CINCY

Begins Life Anew After Liberation From Lima
State Hospital

Cincinnati, June 21.—George Remus began life anew today in his old home on Price Hill, following his liberation from the Lima State hospital of the criminally insane, where he had been a prisoner since a jury had found him not guilty of the first degree murder of his wife, Augusta Ingegn Holmes Remus.

"I'm going to show the world I'm not the oge that publicity has led the public to believe," declared the self-confessed wife slayer as he wandered nervously through the mansion he once occupied with the woman he killed, before his imprisonment at Atlanta for violating the federal prohibition laws.

"I'm not certain if I'll practice law, but I intend to make my home here with the people who have been so kind," the former bootleg millionaire declared.

"Give me a few days to think about the future," replied the arch enemy of former Federal Prohibition Agent Franklin L. Dodge, the man he says wrecked his home and his fortune. "The old book is closed, and I'm starting out anew."

That the legal and criminal action that has beset Remus for the past four years, is not ended is evident as the heirs of his late wife's estate have announced they would fight to keep possession of the slain woman's property for her daughter, Ruth.

Remus so far has not met his own daughter, Romola, who stood by her father during the murder trial.

End G. A. R. Encampment at Lancaster

Lancaster, June 21.—Installation of officers today and a military ball tonight were to bring the annual encampment of the Ohio G. A. R. to a close here.

Findlay was chosen as the meeting place next year at yesterday's business session. Officers for the coming year selected were: John McClay, Columbus, commander; John Faigley, Lancaster, senior vice commander; F. M. Fletcher, Lima, junior vice commander; E. J. Smith, Akron, state chaplain; Dr. George T. Harding, Marion, father of the late President Harding, medical direc-

Mrs. Nell Webster, Dennison, was elected to succeed Mrs. Anna Leppeman, Toledo as president of the Women's Relief corps of Ohio.

Delegates to the national encampment in Denver chosen were: William Cluice, Ironton; Fred Sparks, Norwood; George Funk, Glouster; Donald Caper, Sandusky; W. Heffner, Lima; Theodore Tucker, Toledo; J. T. Romig, New Philadelphia; H. E. Yings, Toronto; A. D. Miller, Akron; J. R. Oldfield, Bryan; Charles W. Embrich, Lancaster; W. F. Brandt, Dayton; N. G. Long, Delaware; A. B. Adams, Cincinnati; James Judy, Columbus; D. J. Foraker, Cambridge; Henry Russell, Alliance; Gustavus Smith, Dayton (delegate-at-large), and W. W. Marietta, Dayton.

Neither the heavy rains nor the many tiring functions could halt the parade yesterday when the 500 veterans attending the meeting marched to the stirring strains of 12 drum corps. Lancaster World war veterans and various G. A. R. auxiliary organizations were also in the parade.

"Home Town Folks" Rockefeller Guests

Tarrytown, N. Y., June 21.—Neighbors of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., averred today that the multi-millionaire and his wife are "real home folks."

Mr. and Mrs. Rockefeller and their sons, John, Nelson, Lawrence and Winthrop, entertained some 230 residents of Pocantico Hills last night. The million dollar playhouse and the Abbotston lodge were used. At least half of the guests used the big swimming pool.

It was the first time the estate had been thrown open in this manner since the I. W. W. riots of 1914. Mr. and Mrs. Rockefeller, however, told the guests that this sort of entertainment would be frequent in the future.

Varied Program At Recital of Pupils

There was a large attendance at the piano recital given Wednesday evening at the High school auditorium by the pupils of Miss Florence Schnorenberg.

Piano solos, duets, trios, quartets, violin numbers, dancing and readings entertained. A "kitchen symphony" under the direction of Duane Dilworth was a special feature.

The stage was beautifully decorated with palms and baskets of daisies and peonies.

WOULD RE-OPEN VANS' RAIL CASE

Short Lines Petition For Another Hearing On Unification Plan

Washington, June 21.—Counsel for a group of short line railroads today petitioned the interstate commerce commission to reopen the Van Sweringen unification case wherein the Chesapeake and Ohio was authorized to acquire the Pere Marquette, but was denied permission to take over the Erie.

The principal contention was that the commission "erroneously" held that its principal concern respecting short lines was with regard to those connecting lines of the companies over which control is to be extended rather than with regard to short lines connecting with the acquiring lines.

It is also contended that the commission "improperly" relied upon the Chesapeake and Ohio to voluntarily give adequate consideration to all the lesser lines which maintain direct traffic relations with its own line or the Pere Marquette, "to the end that a final equitable disposition of them may be expediated."

"This is a council of futility and weakness," the petition said, "although perhaps logically derived from the preceding weakness of its attitude in having failed to adopt a consolidation plan of its own."

ILLINOIS TOWNS FACING FLOODS

Levee Breaks and Waters
Pour Over 2 Counties;
Rains Continuous

Metropolis, Ill., June 21.—Big Bay levee built to divide waters from streams in Pope and Massac counties broke today flooding a large area.

Water is running over the new Columbia levee in the north end of Massac county.

All local streams are rising from continuous rains in the last 24 hours.

Branson, Mo., June 21.—Lake Taneycomo was nearing normal today following a rise of five feet last night when a heavy rainstorm swept Branson and Hollister, nearby. The lake rose two feet in one hour but was at a low level before the rain. Little or no damage resulted in either Hollister or Branson. Telephone and telegraph communication was impaired until mid-morning, however.

MARSHAL CHANG DIED OF WOUNDS

Tokio, June 21.—Gen. Chang Hsueh Liang, son of Marshal Chang Tso Lin, announced today that his father died at 2 o'clock this morning from wounds received when his train was bombed near Mukden on June 4, said a dispatch from Mukden.

Jury Frees Defendant In U. S. Liquor Case

Columbus, June 21.—Possibility of a night or overtime session of federal court loomed here today as the third day of trials of persons indicted by the federal grand jury recently swung under way.

With the start of the third day few of the 49 cases to be tried had been completed. There are more than half of the cases, it was said, to be tried today and tomorrow. Imposition of sentences upon those who are found or pleaded guilty is to take place Saturday. This gave rise to the reports of a night or overtime session.

A verdict of "not guilty" was returned by the jury sat in the case of Charles Hanlon, of Marietta, who was charged with conspiracy to violate the national prohibition law.

Italy Beats England

Bellxstowe, Eng., June 21.—Italy defeated England in the preliminary Davis cup play by winning the doubles today. The Italians won two singles yesterday.

PLAN MIAMI TO ERIE HIGHWAY

Super-Road Through Ohio
To Lake Proposed; Hold
Meeting June 27

Dayton, June 21.—Plans for the furtherance of the proposed Miami-Erie super highway are expected to be taken at a meeting of the Erie Super Highway association to be held here June 27, according to announcement today. It is expected a preliminary survey and cost estimates will be ordered made.

Representatives of all the cities and towns which would be affected, including Dayton, Piqua, St. Marys, Toledo, Defiance, Tipton, City, Troy, Middletown, Columbus, Hamilton, Miamisburg and Cincinnati, are expected to be present.

At a recent meeting of the association it was pointed out that the highway is much needed to relieve congested traffic conditions over the state's north-to-south motor routes. It is planned to use the old bed of the Miami and Erie canal between Cincinnati and Toledo as the route for the highway.

College Boys Grab Nozzle and Douse Attacking Firemen

Hoboken, N. J., June 21.—Hoboken's fire fighters won't interfere with the college boys at Stevens Tech again in a hurry, for they came off second best in a battle with some 2,000 students on the campus last night.

The trouble started when the students, celebrating the end of the college year, burned an effigy of calculus.

When things appeared to be going too far the firemen turned a hose on the students. The students, however, rushed the nozzle holders, captured the hose, and turned it on the firemen. Nobody was arrested, although almost everybody got wet.

HIGH SCHOOL TO PAY ROESSLER'S WAY TO TRYOUT

Honors "Mutt", captain of Victorious Track Team
Here This Year

Keith "Mutt" Roessler, star Salem High pole vaulter, will be sent to the official A. A. U. sectional tryouts for the U. S. Olympic games team at Cincinnati, Friday and Saturday by the Salem High school athletic association, in hopes that he will be able to accompany Lowell "Little Rib" Allen to the final tryouts at Harvard July 6 and 7.

Mutt will be entered in the meet under the auspices of the Allegheny Mountain association as one of that association's official representatives in the pole vault.

William "Bill" Robusch, former star Salem High athlete, later captain of the University of Pittsburgh track team, will be the other Salem and A. M. A. vaulter in Saturday's meet. Robusch will also compete in the high jump.

This makes it possible for Salem to boast three candidates for the Olympics, the highest honor an amateur athlete can attain, and is an honor to Salem High school.

Were Off Color Saturday
Both Roessler and Robusch were off color in the A. M. A. meet Saturday, neither clearing their regular heights in the pole vault. Robusch won the event at 12 feet, after Roessler missed the height three times. It was Roessler's first workout since the national interscholastic meet at Chicago, outside work making it impossible for him to carry on his practice in the rear of his home.

Both he and Allen, his pole vaulting "twin" of last track season at Salem High, have been working out this week in an attempt to get back into the condition that forced all opposition to bow to them during last season. Allen last night cleared 12 feet six inches easily, but was unable to clear the 13 feet mark.

"Little Rib" received a certificate of membership Wednesday from the A. A. U. announcing his eligibility to compete in the Olympics this year. He was selected by Coach A. Alonzo Stagg, of the University of Chicago, chief official at the national interscholastic meet, for the final tryouts at Cambridge next month.

Allen is the holder of both the national indoor and outdoor pole vault titles.

Wednesday Night

The Damascus Quakers defeated the Salem Memorial playground baseball team last night at Centennial park in the second game of the inter-city series, 10-8.

Damascus had a fairly easy time of it, the Salem team failing to present their full strength, and piled up an early lead that Salem was not able to break into. A big seventh inning, when the Quakers scored four runs to give them a seven-run lead, was the main factor in their victory.

Salem came back strong in the eighth and ninth, scoring three runs in each, just falling short of tying the score in the final frame.

Grise pitched for the Quakers. Watkins hurled and M. Schuller caught for the Memorial.

The Salem Post Office "mush" ball nine succumbed to the stellar pitching of Witherspoon. Alliance pitcher last night, losing to the Alliance Post Office, 5-0.

The game was a pitchers' battle for seven frames, the seven innings standing scores. In the eighth an error with men on bases scored two runs, and paved the way for three more before the inning was over.

Yensling, Salem pitcher, hurled a neat game, getting excellent support in all but the final eighth.

Latzo-Loughran Sign

New York, June 21.—Pete Latzo of Scranton, Pa., and Tommy Loughran, light-heavyweight champion, will meet in a ten-round bout at Wilkes-Barre, Pa., on July 16, according to an announcement made here by Jimmy Johnston, Latzo's manager. Loughran outpointed the former welterweight king in a hard fought 15-round battle in Brooklyn recently.

No Americans

London, June 21.—For the second year in succession there were no American entries when the international horse show opened today before a crowd of 30,000 persons.

Fight Results

At Cleveland.—Mike Dundee, Rock Island, Ill., lightweight, outpointed Joe Glick, Brooklyn (10).
Maxie Strube, Erie, Pa., won from Jack Duffy, Toledo lightweight (10).

Lorain, O.—Damages of 1 cent have been awarded by a jury in common pleas court to John Zurcher of Lorain in his $10,000 suit against W. A. Murphy, former head of the Lorain prohibition squad. The plaintiff charged Murphy with false arrest. The police officer swore out a warrant for Zurcher's arrest on a liquor charge three months ago, but the case was dismissed in municipal court here because of lack of evidence.

JONES AND HAGEN HEAD STAR FIELD IN OPEN TODAY

By DAVIS J. WALSH

Olympia Fields, Chicago, June 21.—What the governor of North Carolina said to the governor of South Carolina won't be repeated in any particular when the golf champion of America meets the golf champion of Great Britain today. For it has not been a long time between titles for either Bobby Jones or Walter Hagen, each having won their share in both recent and distant years.

All of which won't prevent them from trying to win the American open championship, beginning today and concluding at the end of the 72 holes of medal play on Friday, barring ties. And all of which, too, gives a very inadequate idea of the field that will go forth in quest of the championship, for, although Jones and Hagen will be the natural focus of public interest, there happens to be an entry list so notable that any one of a dozen men could finish at the head of the pack and cause no undue astonishment.

Other Stars

Included among the latter are Archie Compston, the brave Britisher who knocked Hagen for an 18 and 17 top-de-de in England this spring; Gene Sarazen, runner up to the Haig in the British championship; Tommy Armour, the playing-through champion of this particular fixture; Harry Cooper, with whom Armour indulged in a play off for the title last year; Bill Mehlhorn, Bobby Cruickshank, Johnny Farrell and the rest of the good ones in America; and Aubrey Boomer, well up in the British event, plus a phalanx of supporting English entries.

PHILLIES GOING AT GREAT CLIP

Macks and Yanks, Indians
And Chicago Divide
Double Bills

New York, June 21.—Mr. Hoover is not the only Quaker who is grabbing the spotlight these days. About two dozen of Will Baker's hirelings, the Phillies, have been miraculously transformed from a bunch of misfits into a mighty tough ball club.

The once pulverized but now powerful Phils have copped seven of their last nine starts (proof will be furnished upon receipt of self-addressed stamped envelope) and have jacked up their percentage more than 120 points in the last ten days. They are playing better ball than any club in the league outside of the Cardinals and are within striking distance of seventh place. Several of the G. A. R. members on the club got the sack recently and those who escaped evidently have decided that they had better start earning their pay checks pronto.

Yesterday the Phils spanked Brooklyn again 6 to 2. Don Hurst walloped his sixth homer in eight games.

With Haines on the mound, the Cardinals increased their lead over Cincinnati to four games by smothering the Cubs, 6 to 2. Old Ep Rixey of the Reds lost a 2 to 1 duel to Ray Kremer of Pittsburgh.

After knocking Herb Pennock out of the box and whipping the Yankees, 10 to 5, the Athletics were stopped by George Pipgras in the second game of a twin bill. Pip held the A's to four hits and recorded his 12th victory by a 9 to 3 score. A homer by Grabowski with two on broke up the game.

Garland Braxton, Washington southpaw, limited the Red Sox to four hits and whitewashed them 8 to 0.

Cleveland and Chicago halved a double bill. McCurdy's homer with the bases jammed gave the Sox the opener, 6 to 4. George Grant, Cleveland rookie, hung up his fifth straight victory when the Indians grabbed the nightcap, 4 to 3. Rain stopped the other teams.

HOMEWORTH

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Stump and daughter, Avenell Mae of Alliance were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Thomas.

Miss Ida Davis is assisting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wilson of the Fairmount road.

A large number of relatives and friends of the Knoll family attended their annual reunion at Silver Park Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Mattie were to Minerva Saturday night.

The Wallace-Powell reunion was largely attended at Rockhill Park Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sanor and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Stump were to Canton Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Irwin of Alliance were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Irwin Friday.

The Misses Laura Ruff and Belle Burger have returned from a visit with Alliance friends.
A number of relatives and friends from Homeworth attended the Conser reunion at Minerva Park Saturday.

Miss Varonica Black, a teacher, and daughter of Attorney and Mrs. Elmer E. Black of Salineville and William H. Hoffman a structural engineer of Mansfield were united in marriage a few days ago. Miss Black was well known here having been principal of the Homeworth High school several years ago.

WALKER DEFENDS TITLE TONIGHT RISKY BOUT OFF

Mickey Tangles With Ace
Hudkins In Chicago;
Buot of Ten Rounds

Chicago, June 21.—Mickey Walker that smiling Irish lad who holds the middleweight championship of the world, makes his second defense of the title here tonight when he faces Ace Hudkins, the famous Nebraska boxer, in a ten-round encounter at Comiskey park. They will fight to a judges' decision—the bout lasts that long.

The Bulldog, as they call Walker, and the Wildcat, his challenger, will tangle, weather permitting, before what seems certain to be the largest attendance in the history of the middleweight division. If the elements behave today, more than 30,000 fight fans will attend the affair, it is expected, paying $150,000 or more.

McLarnin and McGraw

New York, June 21.—There should be no waiting when Jimmy McLarnin and Phil McGraw embrace in their ten-round bout at Madison Square Garden tonight. McGraw is a shifty puncher who turns on the leather when he is stung. McLarnin is a deadly hitter when he can land right on his target. He will reach McGraw, who isn't as elusive as Sammy Mandell.

McGraw has never been spread on the floor and nailed down but there is a first time for everything. The Detroit florist made a better showing against Mandell than McLarnin did.

Shy little "baby face" who has shrunk from public contracts since his failure against the champion, has trained in the city this time and is better schooled, especially in his boxing.

McLarnin is a 7 to 5 favorite. If he defeats McGraw tonight he can choose between two good offers, Jim Mullen wants to stage a return match with Mandell in Chicago. Detroit promoters are offering a bout with Stanislaus Loayza.

Postpone Heavy Battle

Postponement of the heavyweight bout between George Godfrey and Johnny Risko until Saturday night is expected to add a few thousand kopecks to the large "gate" Promoter Pugazy expects to draw with this attraction.

Risko is assuming the role of Jack the Giant Killer. He looks like a small boy beside Godfrey although he weighed 197½ pounds on the boxing commission scales yesterday.

The big negro sent the beam up to 235½ pounds. This gives Godfrey an advantage of nearly 38 pounds.

Charge Soviets Try To Stir Revolution By Irish Red Army

London, June 21.—Astounding allegations of a revolutionary plot in Ireland engineered by Moscow and financed with Soviet gold, were made in an article appearing in the London Sunday Chronicle recently. "The 'Sunday Chronicle' is able to reveal," the article declared, "that Moscow has practically succeeded in becoming the directing force behind the Irish revolutionary movement."

Investigations in London, Dublin and Belfast have led to the conclusion, the paper states, that Moscow, "having tried and failed to bring about a revolution in Britain, has now found fertile soil among the Communist Republicans of Ireland."

From ports on Russia's European frontier and from obscure harbors along the North sea, the article continues, tramp steamers are carrying cargoes of arms and ammunition to the Irish coast.

"Extraordinary skill is being displayed in recruiting 'dupes' for the Irish Red army," the article declares. "The appeal is made through Nationalist sentiment and religious fervor rather than thru atheist doctrines of Marxist Socialism, for atheism is not popular in Ireland."

"Blasphemous oaths, designed to play upon religious feeling, are administered to the victims of this propaganda."

Once the recruits are sworn in, the writer continues, they are taught the use of arms and the arts of street fighting by skilled gunmen who have been brought to the country to direct the embryo Red army.

In China doctors are not paid until the patient has recovered, and if not recovered the doctor is not paid.

FILM 'YES MEN' GIVING WAY TO STRONGER MINDS

Some Executives Seeking Men Who Say No, Mayer Points Out

Hollywood, Calif., June 21.—No "yes men" need apply.

Contrary to the opinion that the so-called "yes man" is the principal jobholder in a studio, at least one film producer says he has no use for the agreeable fellow.

Louis B. Mayer likes men about him who can say "no" when they believe it's the right answer, and say so in no uncertain terms.

"Whether it be as business executive or film director," says Mayer, "the man who says 'yes' at the proper time is, in the final analysis, the really successful worker. The ability to do this wisely is the mark of sound judgment." Mayer contends, often gets farther than fast thinking or flashes of brilliance.

"I have known business men," he says, "who, though seemingly slow in their mental processes and possessed of apparently no imagination could when crises came, big or little, steer their business courses invariably in the right direction. There was none of the flare that gives fascination to characters about them, but unerring precision in the big problems.

"What, then, is the basis for sound judgment that makes a man able to judge wisely? It is ability capable of development and training."

"I believe that, either in business or in motion pictures, the man who judges wisely is usually the man who has observed accurately in the first place. He has reasoned out in his own mind the relationship of things, has noticed effects that follow cases, and has seen these things straight.

"Take, for instance, King Vidor's direction of 'The Big Parade' for a more recent case, Clarence Brown's direction of 'The Trail of 99.' Here were productions in which great crowds were used under unnatural difficulties and often grave hardships. The slightest mistake would have been costly.

Accuracy was the fundamental that the structure of direction was built on in each case. Tried by no guess-work at any time. The director had to know when to say "yes" or "no," and this meant he had to reason out each step and see things straight.

"Thus the film director, besides having dramatic perception, has above all things to have that gift of accuracy and analysis that, say, the successful man has. Colleges can develop the ability to use accuracy; practice makes perfect, but after all the foundation of it is judgment."

At the formal evening affair in Hollywood decolletages grow lower and frocks become more moulded to the figure than ever before.

Greta Garbo, a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer star, appeared at a smart function wearing a startling gown of gold colored satin, absolutely without trimming. Its effectiveness relied upon the cut. Entirely form fitting to below the hips, it then flared out in a gored skirt, with an uneven hemline.

The legislative union of Great Britain and Ireland took place January 1, 1801.

The street was thronged with thousands of hurrying pedestrians. Suddenly a woman's cry rose shrilly above the noise of the passing throngs. "Give me air!" she shrieked. The crowd gasped and stood aside. Then a woman triumphantly drove her car with one flat tire, into the filling station.

"I haven't paid a cent for repairs since I've owned this car." "Yeah! That's what the fellow who does your repairing just told me." Ever hear about the fellow who quit smoking because he was getting a tobacco heart? Well, he began eating candy and now he has a sweetheart.

Today NASH presents a New and Finer Motor Car

New Twin Ignition Motor New Salon Bodies

"The three new Nash Series, which are being introduced everywhere today, achieve the ambition of my manufacturing career.

"They represent an entirely new type of motor car, priced moderately, but offering you all the beauty and quality and performance heretofore exclusive to very expensive automobiles.

"To create such a car we had to develop an entirely new type of design and invest over $2,500,000 in dies and machinery alone.

"Both the Salon bodies and the high compression motors which power these new models exemplify the most radically modern advancement in body craftsmanship and engineering.

"Naturally space precludes the full listing of all features but I do want to draw your attention to a number of the outstanding attractions such as:—

"—Twin ignition, high compression, Bohnalite aluminum alloy pistons with Invar-struts, 7-bearing crankshaft with hollowed crankpins, Bijur centralized chassis lubrication, Houdaille and Lovejoy shock absorbers, Biflex-Nash bumpers and bumperettes, chrome plating over nickel for all exterior metal ware, double-drop frame, one-piece Salon fenders and longer wheelbase lengths.

"This new-type engineering of the '400' motors makes them by far the best performing cars I have ever built.

"I don't think anyone will ever want to use all the speed and power they deliver.

"Equipment is absolutely complete at the factory list price and you need buy no extras except a spare tire.

"If my judgment is worth anything you will find it well worth while today to examine this new automobile development with the greatest care."

FIND METHOD TO FERTILIZE SEED; AID TO FARMERS

Treat It With Phosphate Salts; High Cost Is Thus Eliminated

Berkeley, Calif., June 21. — A method for the fertilization of seed on a large scale, making fertilization of the soil unnecessary, has been discovered at the University of California. It was announced today.

The discovery is designed by agriculturists as one of the most important contributions of science to mankind in the history of the world.

For many years such a method was sought by scientists of every civilized nation. But it remained for Professor W. F. Gerike, associate plant physiologist at the Berkeley institution, to disclose this long sought secret of nature.

Professor Gerike has succeeded in developing a method of treating seed grain on a large scale before planting with phosphate salts without destroying its power to live and to grow.

Value to Farmers
By this means he makes it possible for grain to be grown in soil deficient in phosphorus without the more costly fertilization of the entire field.

Agricultural experts point out that this development, if proved feasible in foreign fields, will be of great value to farmers in many parts of Europe, Australia and Africa, where extensive districts deficient in phosphorus are found.

The lack of this essential chemical element, according to Professor Gerike, is due partly to long and extensive cultivation of the soil and partly to the fact that certain soils convert phosphorus to an insoluble which plants cannot use.

The seed treatment method, storing the necessary phosphorus within the seed itself, obviates both these difficulties.

In tests at Berkeley during the last three years it has been found possible actually to increase the weight of the seed to ten to thirty per cent, varying with the species. In the case of barley so treated, as high as a 15-fold increase has been obtained as compared with no crop at all where untreated seed was planted in phosphorus - lacking ground.

On Large Scale
The great value of Professor Gerike's discovery lies in the fact that his methods permit treatment of seed on a large scale at low cost. Further experiments, however, will be made in the field before the method is given widespread application.

This is the third important discovery that the Berkeley scientist has made recently in his program of experiments purposing to make certain plants wholly or in part independent of the soil or of soil conditions.

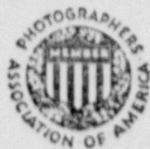

The first was the perfection of a method of growing floral plants in water solutions containing the elements necessary for normal growth, a process of commercial interest.

The second was a method of storing the important fertilizers in sufficient quantities in young tomato plants while they were growing in cold frames to produce a markedly greater crop.

The basis of all these experiments, Professor Gerike explained, is the fact that plants may absorb more food than they need for growth.

The present system of beginning the New Year with January 1 was adopted in Scotland in 1600, a century and a half before its adoption in England.

When General Custer makes his last stand in your Living Room

THE battle may be hard on the "Indians"—but it's apt to be a lot harder on your floors.

You can't keep young feet from racing and scuffling through the house—of course! But you can give your floors the protection of Devoe Marble Floor Finish.

This varnish is made especially to stand the hardest punishment a floor can get. Clear as glass—elastic instead of brittle—Devoe Marble Floor Finish wears like nothing else you can use. Flows on easily and hardens over-night.

Come in and let us tell you more about it.

ESSEX Super

World's Greatest Value ...altogether or part by part

The Essex Super-Six is outstanding, and all this year has out-sold, every other "Six" by such margins that comparison is only a gesture.

For it needs no expert to see—what every expert knows—that such an array of values was never before presented within hundreds of dollars of the price.

Your first glance tells that. But more important, you can examine this Essex, part by part, and in each item, whether it is the upholstery used, or the costliest type of four-wheel brakes, or the use of vertical shutters, demonstrate a superiority of quality and actual margins of costlier materials and workmanship.

To know the overpowering conviction of greatest value held by Essex owners is merely to see Essex beauty, to examine Essex quality, to sit inside and feel Essex comfort—to ride and know Essex performance.
